

Due diligence programmes:

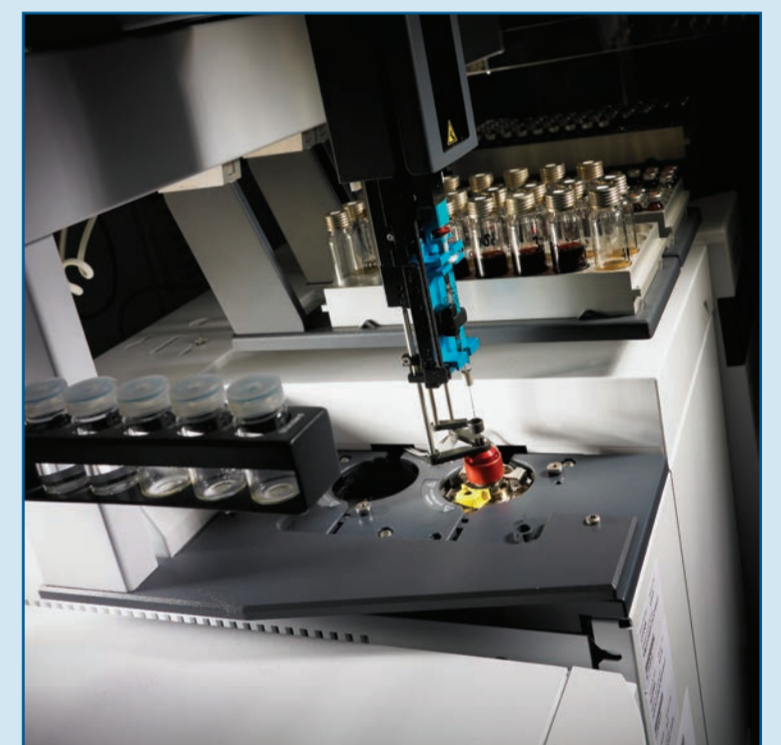

Due diligence support for a wide range of clients in the food and drinks industry

We can provide analyses and advice to help you comply with legal requirements and industry guidelines, including:

- Advising what analyses are needed to prove your products are compliant
- Helping you interpret your data

Many of our analyses for due diligence are ISO17025 accredited and we can provide independent, impartial advice.

planning and implementation