

Have confidence in your results

Ever looked at results and thought “How can that be and what does that mean?”

Are you confident you act on “out of spec” results that are reliable?

Campden BRI can help you have confidence in your analytical and microbiology results

- Is my laboratory accredited and retailer compliant?
- Is my laboratory using reliable methods?
- Why are my results different from other laboratories?
- I don't believe my result. How do I challenge this?
- I have concerns about a laboratory
- How will changes to laboratory accreditation affect reporting of my results?
