Working with industry for industry

We are a science and technology organisation with over 3,000 member companies in over 85 countries.

We work closely with our members to ensure that we provide the practical, technical, scientific and regulatory support which enables them to run their business efficiently and cost effectively.

Membership team

Our dedicated membership team is committed to making your experience at Campden BRI a rewarding one.

Bertrand Emond, Clare Brett, Nicky Martin and Angie Deaves
