1 A History of the Seafood Industry 1
Roy E. Martin

The fish curing industry 1
Fish canning 2
Canning salmon 3
The shrimp fishery 3
Canning oysters, clams, and crabs 5
The fish canning industry 6
The haddock fishery 8
Early Pacific fisheries 9
The menhaden fishery 10
The whaling industry 11
An overview of our heritage 12

Further reading 12

2 Harvesting Techniques 14
George J. Flick, Jr.

Classification of harvesting techniques 14
Nets 15
Trap and gear pot 20
Hook-and-line fishing 22
Shellfish dredging and scooping gear 24
Hand picking 25
Fishing optimization 25
Miscellaneous and experimental gear 25
Acknowledgment 26

Further reading 26

3 Groundfish 27
George J. Flick, Jr., and Laura S. Douglas

Introduction 27

Historical perspective 28

East Coast fishing industry: a historical perspective 28

West Coast fishing industry: a historical perspective 30

Species 32

East Coast 32

West Coast 41

Acknowledgments 44

References 45

Webliography 45

4 Pelagic Fish 48
Laura S. Douglas

Introduction 48

Species 49

Herrings, sardines, and anchovies 49

Tunas, bonitos, and billfishes 50

Miscellaneous pelagic fishes 52

Physical adaptation 53

Musculature 54

Preservation 54

Maine sardines 55

Brisling and sild (formerly Norway sardines) 55
Portuguese sardines 56
Tuna 56
Mackerel 56
Anchovies, Mediterranean style 57
Menhaden 57
Nutritional value 57
Labeling 58
Sardines and sardine-like products 58
Anchovies 59
Tunas 59
Quality factors 59
Brisling and sild (Norway sardines) 59
Portuguese sardines 59
Tunas 60
Mackerels 60
Anchovies, Mediterranean style 60
Acknowledgments 61
References 61
Webliography 61

5 Major Cultured Species 63
Lori S. Marsh

Importance of aquaculture 63
Production environments and systems 63
Pond systems 64
Enclosure and cage systems 64
Flow-through systems 65
Recirculating aquaculture systems 65
Common aquacultured species 65
Carps 66
Oysters 67
Clams, cockles, and arkshells 67
Shrimps and prawns 68
Tilapias 68
Salmons and trouts 69
Conclusions 70
References 70
Webliography 70

6 Shellfish—Mollusks 71
Robin Downey, Lori Marsh, and George J. Flick, Jr.
Mollusk farms and fisheries 71
Natural history 71
Feeding 72
The mollusk and public health 72
Conservation regulations 72
West Coast 73
Clam culture operations 73
Geoduck (giant clam) culture operations 73
Mussel culture operations 74
Oyster culture operations 74
Scallop culture operations 75
Abalone 75
Atlantic and Gulf Coasts 76
Surf clams 76
Ocean quahog 77
Hard clam 78
Soft shell clam 79
Scallops 80
Oysters 80
Blue mussel 81
Acknowledgment 81
References 81
Webliography 82

7 Shellfish—Crustaceans 83
Michael J. Oesterling
Crabs 84
Blue crab 85
King crab 86
Cancer crabs 88
Shrimp 89
Penaeid shrimp 90
Pandalid shrimp 91
Lobster 92
Spiny lobsters 92
American lobster 93
Further reading 94

8 Underutilized (Latent) Fishery Species 95
Michael Jahncke and Daniel Kauffman
History of research programs on underutilized (latent) fishery species 95
Fishery development foundations 96

Saltenstall-Kennedy fishery development funds and sea grant research programs on underutilized (latent) species 97

Examples of past and current underutilized (latent) species development efforts 97

Dogfish 97

Pacific sardine 98

Atlantic red crab 99

Spin-offs from underutilized (latent) species research 99

Nongovernmental organization and consumer pressure for sustainable management 100

Future trends 101

Acknowledgments 101

References 101

Webilography 103

9 Processing Finfish 105
Lori Marsh and George J. Flick, Jr.

Filleting 105

Mince 106

Raw materials and sources 106

Separation processes 106

Washing 110

Mince stabilization 110

Mince products 112

Conclusions 114

Batters and breading 114

Mesh 115

Browning rate 115
10 Surimi and Fish Protein Isolate 118
Jae W. Park

Introduction 118
Manufacturing of surimi 119
Refining 121
Freezing, metal detection, and frozen storage 121
Factors affecting surimi quality 122
Surimi gel preparation and measurement 122
Fish protein isolate 123
What is fish protein isolate? 123
Superior gelling properties of FPI 124
Utilization of surimi and fish protein isolate 124

References 126

11 Waste (By-Product) Utilization 128
Lori Marsh and Peter J. Bechtel

Human consumption 129
Mince 129
Roe 130
Fish heads 130
Pharmaceutical nutraceuticals and other products 130
Aquacultural, agricultural, and bulk food uses 131

Fish hydrolysates 131

Fertilizer and compost 131

Nonnutritional uses 132

Biodiesel and fuel 132

Chitin and chitosan 132

Carotenoid pigments 133

Leather and gelatin 133

References 133

12 Processing Mollusks 136
George J. Flick, Jr.

Processing for the live market 136

Processing for the fresh market 137

Bivalves 137

Gastropods 138

Further processing 139

Batter and breading operations 139

Freezing 139

Canning 140

Pickled mollusks 142

High pressure processing 142

Irradiation and electron beam 145

Steam tunnel 145

Heat shock 147

Postharvest processes 147
Postharvest processing validation/verification guidance for Vibrio vulnificus and Vibrio parahaemolyticus 148

Flavoring agents from processing effluents 148

Acknowledgment 149

References 149

Further reading 149

13 Processing Crustaceans 151

Lori S. Marsh

Crabs 151

Swimming or blue crabs 151

Further processing 153

King crab 153

Dungeness crab 154

Stone crab 154

Jonah crab and rock crab 154

Lobster 155

Shrimp 155

Paste shrimp 155

Cold-water shrimp 156

Warm-water shrimp 156

Shrimp processing on board the capture vessel 156

Crawfish 158

Harvesting crawfish 158

Grading 158

Cooking 158

Packaging 159
14 Freshwater Fish 161
Denise Skonberg and Thomas E. Rippen

Current status 161
Other fisheries 162
Markets/processing 163
Composition and quality 163
Shelf life 163
Red versus white muscle 163
Nutrient composition 164
Consumer preference 164
Off-flavors 165
Parasites 165
Contaminants 165
Selected species 166
Whitefish 166
Lake whitefish 166
Chubs (lake herring) 166
Other whitefish 166
Yellow perch 167
Walleye 167
Lake trout 168
Smelt 168
Nutrition and Preparation 172
Doris T. Hicks

Introduction 172

Make smart choices from every food group 173

Nutrient intake recommendations 173

Major nutrients 173

Protein 173

Fat 174

Water 175

Minerals 175

Trace minerals 177

Vitamins 178

Water-soluble vitamins 179

Nutrition labeling for seafood 180

What you need to know about mercury in fish and shellfish 181

Allergens 182

Buying seafood 182

Whole fish 182

Fish fillets or steaks 182

Shellfish 183

Label-dated seafood 183
Mail-order seafood 183
Handling and storing fresh seafood 183
Buying frozen seafood 184
Preparation 186
Keeping it clean 186
Cooking: general rules 186
Serving seafood 190
Acknowledgment 191
Further reading 191
Webliography 192

16 Species Identification of Seafood 193
LeeAnn Applewhite, Rosalee Rasmussen, and Michael Morrissey

Significance of problem 194
Types of species substitution 194
Background 195
Comparison of protein- and DNA-based methods 196
DNA-based methods 196
DNA extraction 196
DNA amplification 197
Post-PCR analysis methods 201
Single-stranded conformational polymorphism 205
General summary of DNA-based methods 207
Current regulatory activity 207
Current commercial applications 209
Online resources 209
Challenges and emerging trends 210
17 Packaging 220
Joseph E. Marcy

Why package? 221
Containing and protecting the product 221
Product protection 221
Communication 223
Convenience 224
Package selection 225
Consumer/retail packaging 225
Bulk packaging techniques 227
Handling characteristics of packaging materials 228
Acknowledgment 229
References 229
Further reading 229

18 Freezing 230
Donald E. Kramer, Lyn D. Peters, and Edward Kolbe

Factors affecting frozen shelf life 230
Composition 231
Condition of the fish 232
Season of year 233
Rigor mortis 233
Freezing rate 234
Storage temperature 237
Packaging 238
Thawing 244
Temperature indicators 245
Acknowledgment 246
References 246
Further reading 247

19 Handling of Fresh Fish 249
Thomas E. Rippen and Denise Skonberg
Review of fish spoilage 249
Bacteria 249
Developing a scombrotoxin (histamine) control plan 250
Temperature effect 255
Ice advantages and uses 255
Ice in retail display cases 257
Other cooling systems 257
Bruises and cuts 257
Bacterial contamination 258
Washing and sanitizing 259
Further reading 259

20 Shellfish—Biological Safety 261
George J. Flick, Jr., and Linda Ankenman Granata
Shrimp 261
21 Allergens, Decomposition, and Toxins 278

Sherwood Hall

Allergens 279

Decomposition 279

Biogenic amines 280

Seafood toxins 281

Some useful resources 282

Shellfish toxins and primary accumulation 282

Toxins that can be accumulated from plankton but are of uncertain risk to consumers 284

Palytoxins and Ostreopsis toxins 285

Pufferfish, intrinsic toxicity, and toxicity of uncertain origin 285

Distribution 286

Concepts and strategies for managing seafood toxins 286

Sampling, sample preparation, and the significance of a sample 289
22 Cleaning and Sanitation 297

Nina Gritzai Parkinson

Cleaning 298

Surfaces to be cleaned 298

Nonfood-contact surfaces 298

Type of soil 298

Water properties 299

Temperature 299

Equipment and resources 300

Factors to consider when selecting the cleaning compound 300

Sanitizing 301

Chemical factors 302

Biological factors 303

Sanitizers 303

Iodine compounds 304

Quaternary ammonium compounds 304

Acid-anionic surfactants 305

Fatty acid sanitizers 305

Ozone 305

Peroxyacetic acid or peracetic acid solutions 305
Writing sanitation standard operating procedures 305
Acknowledgments 306
Further reading 306
Webliography 307

23 Implementing the Seafood HACCP Regulation 308
Pamela D. Tom

Overview of the seafood HACCP regulation and principles 308
HACCP training 311
Internet HACCP resources 312
Hazards guide 313
Generic HACCP plans and forms 314
Encore manual 314
Discussion list 315
HACCP inspection 315
Monitoring sanitation control procedures 316
Webliography 316

24 Aquaculture 318
Brian G. Bosworth

History of aquaculture 318
Types of aquaculture 319
Advantages and disadvantages of aquaculture 319
Basic requirements of aquaculture 320
Aquaculture production 321
Worldwide 321
United States 322
Culture systems and techniques 322
Catfish 322
Salmon and trout 323
Carp 324
Shrimp 324
Crawfish 324
Oysters 325
Aquatic plants and algae 325
Current issues related to aquaculture production 325
Future of aquaculture 326
Acknowledgment 326
References 326

25 Waste Treatment 327
Gregory D. Boardman
Seafood wastewater 327
Pollution parameters 328
Wastewater guidelines 330
Direct discharge 331
Municipal discharge 333
Waste treatment 334
In-plant controls 334
Reuse and recycling 336
Segregation of waters 337
End-of-pipe treatment 337
Residuals management 344
Conclusions 345
Acknowledgment 346
26 Fish Meal and Oil 348

Anthony P. Bimbo

Introduction 348

Production of fish meal 353

Raw material 353

Harvesting 354

Unloading 354

Cooking 355

Pressing 356

Drying 356

Antioxidant addition 357

Storage and shipping 359

Production of crude fish oil 359

Solids removal 360

Oil–water separation 360

Polishing or oil purification 360

Production of stickwater concentrate 360

Evaporation 360

Other production methods 361

Dry rendering 361

Various silage products 361

Hydrolyzates 362

Pollution control 362

Water effluent 363
Gaseous effluent 363
Markets 364
Fish meal 364
Crude fish oil 364
Global aquaculture market 368
References 371
Further reading 373
Webliography 373

27 Regulations 374
Roy E. Martin

Food and Drug Administration 374
Common or usual names 375
Imitations 376
Poisonous and deleterious substances 378
Good manufacturing practices 379
Revision of umbrella GMPs 380
Emergency permit control 380
Labeling 380
Nutrient content descriptors 383
Other definitions 384
“Fresh” 385
Health claims 385
Ingredient labeling 386
Advertising 386
Enforcement 386
Mandatory seafood inspection 387
Imports 389
Bioterrorism 390
Exports 391
Fines 391
National Marine Fisheries Service 391
Inspections 392
Lacey Act 393
Penalties 394
Questions and answers concerning the Lacey Act 395
US Customs 395
Bulk containers 395
Other legislation 396
Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act 396
Optimum yield 396
Anadromous Fish Conservation Act 398
State regulations 400
Interstate Shellfish Sanitation Conference 401
Federal Trade Commission 401
False or misleading 401
Substantiation 401
Appendix 402
NMFS Inspection Services 402
Technical Assistance and Sanitary-Inspected Fish Establishment Services 402
Packed Under Federal Inspection Service 402
Product Grading Service 402
28 Smoked, Cured, and Dried Fish 404
George J. Flick, Jr., and David D. Kuhn

Economic importance 405
Principles of smoking, drying, and curing 405
Smoked fish processing 406
Purchasing and receiving 407
Raw material storage 407
Raw material preparation 408
Salting 409
Drying fish 413
Smoking 415
Cooling 419
Spoilage and contamination of smoked fish 420
Effect of smoking on composition 421
Dried salted fish 422
Dried fish 422
Pickled fish 423
Government regulations 423
Personnel 423
Quality control 425
Acknowledgment 425
References 425
Further reading 426
Transportation 427
Delivery equipment design and construction 428
Preloading controls 428
Loading controls 429
Unloading controls 429
Special concerns: Railcars 430
Special concerns: Air shipping 432
Fish and seafood acceptance by air carriers 435
Factors involved in packaging design 436
Transportation from packing house to airport 437
Air waybill 437
Air waybill requirements for dry ice 437
Distributors that take ownership of product 438
Organization and programs 438
Checkpoints and additional guides 438
Warehousing 440
Buildings and grounds 440
Fixtures and equipment 441
Sanitary facilities 441
Sanitary operations 442
Procedures and controls 443
Personnel 444
Temperature control and handling practices 445
Food security guidelines 447
Supervision 448
Recall strategy 448
Evaluation program 448
Personnel 448
Facility 450
Operations 451
Security of water and utilities 452
Security of ventilation system (where applicable) 452
Mail/packages 453
Access to computer systems 453
Further reading 453
Index 455