Contents

- Introduction
- Nisin in multi-factorial food preservation
- Nisin in the decontamination of animal products
- Bacteriocins other than nisin: the pediocin-like cystibiotics of lactic acid bacteria
- Natamycin: an effective fungicide for food beverages
- Organic acids
- Antimicrobials from animals
- Chitosan: new food preservative or laboratory curiosity?
- Antimicrobials from herbs and spices
- Natural antimicrobials in post harvest storage of fresh fruits and vegetables
- Plant antimicrobials combined with conventional preservatives for fruit products
- Edible coatings containing natural antimicrobials for processed foods
- Natural antimicrobials in combination with gamma irradiation
- Natural antifungal agents for bakery products
- Regulations: new food additives, ingredients and processes
- Appendix - useful websites